INSULTS ARE BEING HURLED BY DUPLESSIS

and in one passage of the address he clearly foreboded a national government as one of the first consequences.

Meanwhile Mr. Duplessis and his candidate seem to find the rough stuff much to their liking. Their campaign is one of stark isolationism—no trade or traffic with Canada, Quebec first last and all the time. Quebec against the world. But the worst is a revealing matter, attention. There is one crack from a Duplessis candidate speaking Sunday night:

"If you want to be well treated by the Dominion government, you must be a French Canadian, change your name to French, and then you will be better than he does you."

Great use is being made of the minimum which is given in recent years to the Dominion. It is said, "I am not a Frenchman for the west but none for Quebec." "What did Ottawa guarantee for Quebec when it was admitted? What price for the western provinces?" Mr. Duplessis is asking.

RADIO CENSORSHIP

And the radio censorship is not stiff. Mr. Duplessis complains that he has been put under the censorship by the Dominion. That the same government, after spending millions to fight the radio, gives full right to Hitler to speak in the Canadian airwaves. There is, of course, some of the propaganda which Mr. Duplessis might describe as "atrocious and shameful lies." But the Duplessis campaign against the radio, with results not yet clear to observers.

Folk Are Told Issues Of Quebec Election

CHICOUTIMI, Que., Oct. 10.—The sole issue before the Quebec electorate in the Oct. 10 election is whether the "administration of Maurice Duplessis" is to be continued. The campaign, headed by Premier Maurice Duplessis, has continued. Hon. Adolphe Beaudry, provincial Liberal leader and former premier, declared in a radio broadcast on the night of the election that he was "a free man."

The Liberal leader stated against the "autocracy" led up by Duplessis and Paul Gouin, action Liberal leader, that he was "a free man." He said that he was "a free man" and that he was "a free man" and that he was "a free man."

PROMISES UNFULFILLED

"Let others give their feet on the national flag," he declared in a Saturday address.

Mr. Gouin said that Premier Duplessis in his 1936 campaign had accused the Liberals of "betrayal and corruption," but he had not put them in jail as he promised he would. Neither had he used the national government to fulfill other election promises.

The premier had issued grave warnings of the dangers of corruption being introduced by the Liberal government at Ottawa, but the Conservative party—headed in this province by Mr. Duplessis—before formation of the Union Nationale—had been responsible for corruption in 1931.

Dr. B. J. Manion, former Conservative leader in the Quebec legislature, had left the Liberal party in 1937 because party chiefs had refused his demands for a "free" party. "Sir Thomas Chabot, senior member of the present Liberal cabinet, minister without portfolio and government leader in the legislative assembly," he said, "was named by the Conservative government which had initiated corruption."

Provincial Autonomy

Is Quebec's Aim

By WILLIAM STERNY

KANSAS, Kan. Press Staff Writer

CHICOUTIMI, Que., Oct. 10.—Quebec's coming election will be described Sunday by Premier Duplessis as a "fight" between the Canadian in behalf of all Canadians to preserve provincial autonomy.

In a campaign speech, the premier urged his listeners to fight party lines and unite in an effort to "ensure that Quebec will have a government of its own."

ROCKS DO NOT GROW

It is surprising how many people believe that many kinds of rocks actually grow, especially if they are in the right kind of soil. Some people will swear that they have known stones to "grow" into boulders. At times it is accomplished only by lying things. The only way stones can get larger is by the same method that a snowball "grows" when it is rolled in snow. As the addition of material to the outside. This, of course, is not growth.

PREMIER SAYS
COAT-OF-ARMS IS SYMBOLIC

Faith In God Is Stronger Than Armaments, Bible Conference Told

Declaring that God has prepared a method of deliverance that defies worldly power, Premier William Aberhart, in addressing the Edmonton Protestant Bible Conference at the Strand Hotel Sunday evening pointed out that victory depends on something more than the largest army or the greatest armaments.

His statement was made while giving the third in his series of 10 talks on the "Coat-of-Arms of the Bible." The British coat-of-arms is the good identifying emblem of the "covenant," he said. "The coat-of-arms is a challenge to the power of the world, and it is only by the covenant agreement and recognition of God's power that we can win."

GOD AND MY RIGHT

He recalled that in his second address he pointed out that the descriptive title "God and My Right" (God and My Right) reminded one that the divine right to reign is a personal right of any individual or family and is only possible by the power of God.

He declared that "every Christian must recognize this same principle. We must know that apart from God, our righteousness is of no avail, but with God and the word of Christ, we are victorious. This is the message of the Bible and the basis of our faith."

The premier said that the subject of the third talk on the coat-of-arms was "The Power of David." Continuing, he declared that "it is a personal right of every individual to stand before God as a free man, and it is only by the power of God that we can win."

He said that the coat-of-arms of the British crown is a symbol of the power of God. He said that the coat-of-arms of the British crown is a symbol of the power of God. He said that the coat-of-arms of the British crown is a symbol of the power of God.

Canada's First Concern Is To Herself, A.C.W.W. President Tells Convention Delegates

CANADA'S first concern must be the improvement of her own work, Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.A., B.E., of London, England, president of the Associated Country Women of the World told delegates to the "How Country Women Serve" convention of the F.W.I.C. on Monday evening.

"If the normal work falls down then we would not be capable of a second supplementary effort," she said, "so it is essential in this time of war that the building up of Canada is our first concern."

Founder of the Women's Institutes in England and Wales and also the organization of which she is president, Mrs. Watt has held posts under four heads of agriculture, in British Columbia, Ontario, Alberta and the United Kingdom, and in the interests of rural life she has visited practically every European country, New Zealand, Canada, U.S.A., and parts of the United Kingdom and Europe. She has made rural sociology and rural economics her life study and is a recognized authority on the subject.

AGRICULTURE IS BASIS

"The basis of our country is agriculture," Mrs. Watt continued, "addressing the convention on 'How Country Women Serve'." "The great crux of the situation is the food supply."

"Preservation and conservation of food is important and is our job while we should also be producing full supply of substitute goods and what we can make of native resources." In this connection Mrs. Watt recommended the book, "What Country Women Do."

"As well as carrying on the normal program of the country life and building up the food supply as to build up a self-sustaining Canada, our program must be elastic, so that when the government knows what they want of us we are prepared to meet an immediate demand."

"As yet no one knows what the needs will be," Mrs. Watt stated, "just as no one could or can foresee what this war will be. The great asset of the Women's Institute is that it is a service the peace of war and armed workers are included in its ranks. Our greatest service" she pointed out, "is that of home building and a home self-sustaining and with high ideals is the greatest asset a country can have."

MORAL VALUE

Mrs. Watt urged that the moral value of the Women's Institute be preserved at all costs. Through the past years it has had a tremendous influence on the community in keeping it sane and beautiful. It should struggle harder than ever now to keep our women interested in W.I. work so that children may be given a healthy outlook on life and the normal services of the community be kept going."

She advised that the Women's In-

Helen Cairns Is Bride Of Saturday

SOLEMNIZED very quietly in the vestry of Robertson United Church on Saturday morning was a pretty mid-austen wedding of interest to many friends in Edmonton, when Helen Margaret Cairns, elder daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. F. Cairns, became the bride of Arthur Everett Greenwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Greenwood.

Performed by Rev. J. Gordon Brown, the ceremony was performed in the presence of immediate relatives.

Dressed becomingly in a frock of coral blue silk, with a series of wings to contrast, the bride was a pretty figure at her wedding. She wore a crown of gardenia and her shoulder.

WEDDING BREAKFAST

Twenty-eight guests extended their best wishes to the bridal couple at the wedding breakfast arranged in the Corona hotel following the ceremony.

Receiving the bride and the bridegroom, Mrs. T. F. Cairns wore a smart gown of brown crepe, with gold trim. Her accessories were brown and her flowers were a fragrant corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood, left by motor for a wedding trip to Banff and other points in the Rockies. Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood were a suit of brown, with smart tropical flowers with white collar. Her accessories were brown.

They will be at home to their friends at their apartment in the Westminster apartments.

Attending her sister as bridesmaid, Miss Anne McKenke, a becoming dress in a Queen's blue gown, with short puffed sleeves, self-colored buttons and a flared skirt. Her high-crowned hat was veiled with ostrich tips.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

A wedding dinner to relatives and friends was served at the Westminster. Edward hotel, following the ceremony.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. George Sinclair, brother of the bridegroom, held a reception at their home.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Miss Bella Dick and the Misses Dick, of Calgary.

Flowers Form Setting For Ceremony

MASSKS of lovely chrysanthemums banked about the first place and soft candlelight from tall white tapers made a lovely setting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Emms on Saturday evening.

When their eldest daughter, Audrey Kenneth Emms became the bride of Arthur Miller, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, also of this city.

Gowned exquisitely in white wedding tulle, the bride was a dainty figure at her wedding. Made of white lace, the gown was a simple affair at the back, her gown featured tapering sleeves, high throat and a row of self-colored buttons down the front.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and both she and the bridegroom went unattended.

A buffet supper to immediate relatives was served at the Westminster. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Miller were entertained at a dinner at the Westminster.

ROAD PROJECT IS COMPLETED FOR HUT CITY

Centre Street Graveling Is Finished At Military
Encampment

Completion of the graveling of Centre Street in Hut City, the encampment of more than 1400 men of the Edmonton Garrison, featured Garrison week-end activities. Lieut. Col. E. Brown, M.M., Garrison Commandant announced Tuesday, Gravel for this project was supplied by the city of Edmonton.

This road is of vital importance to the troops at the hut city who are encamped on barren land. Recent rains have made communication between the hut difficult and no pedestrian and automobile vehicles have been subjected to hazardous footing.

Col. Brown also announced that on instructions from headquarters he had recruited one artillery section of the men for depot purposes. This, he said, was accomplished without difficulty and by taking the men from among the many applications on file.

GET HOLIDAY

On Monday, units of the Garrison joined the general public in celebrating Thanksgiving Day. Boys had the day off and enjoyed it thoroughly.

The week-end was largely devoted to athletics. Two soccer games were played on Saturday. On Sunday a basketball team from the 3rd Army Troops Company, R.C.E., teamed with an all-Garrison team and the civies won by 9-1.

On Sunday the Garrison attended divine service at the Shrine of the Bells. Special reference was made to the fact that this particular Sunday had been designated as a day of intercession on behalf of the Allied cause in the European war.

STAGE CONCERT

On Sunday night, the Edmonton Regiment, provided a concert, given at the Empire theatre. The program was the same as the I.O.D.E. The house was filled to the limit of its capacity and hundreds were turned away from the entrance. Those contributing to the program were the band of the Edmonton Regiment, the Regimental unit of the 4th Bn. C.E.F., Lieut. W. T. Thompson, Capt. Leonard F. Daven, Mrs. Helen Warden Adams, Private Joseph Roberts, with Lieut. Col. W. S. Williams, officer commanding the Edmonton Regiment, and Mrs. Adams acting as accompanist.

It is planned that talent from the Garrison will stage a complete military revue at the Empire theatre sometime in November, the show being patterned after the style of the famous Dumbells show in the Great War.

ALLIES FIGHT TYRANNY SAYS BROCKINGTON

Appeals For Freedom Of Press At Newspaper
Men's Parley Here

Britain and France have entered this war not for greed of territory, but to overthrow a tyranny that has darkened men's lives. Leonard M. Brockington, K.C., chairman of the board of governors of the C.B.C. Winnipeg, declared at a luncheon meeting Saturday at the Marmalade which closed the convention of the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association.

Cecil Lamont, of Winnipeg, was chairman at the luncheon. Brockington, in addition to being guest speaker, also introduced John Blue, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who brought in the journal of the prize-winning weekly papers.

WAR CHALLENGE
Mr. Brockington said a determination to free men from the tyranny of the Nazi creed marked the spirit in which Canada, like other nations in the commonwealth, had accepted the challenge of war.

He declared that the spirit of adventure which animated in 1914 when war began, was a different spirit prevailed now.

Mr. Brockington, who was in Britain during the war, drew a vivid portrait of the struggle between the Allies and the Axis powers, which he said was a struggle for the survival of the human race.

He said that the Allies were fighting for the freedom of the world, while the Axis powers were fighting for the domination of the world.

Recollection is that sinking feeling after it is too late. Children live in the future; old people live in the past. The rest of us live anywhere we can afford the rent.

Deep in the recesses of the mind is the recollection of a lifetime. New England states are also stuffed with junk.

Many a man has tender recollections of how his wife was before he married her. It is curious how we like to dwell on our mistakes.
